

Layla “Phoenix” Faisal Hero Barks

Role:

Layla is a versatile and offensive hero capable of both long range and close-range attacks. She uses her crossbow to take down enemies and can choose to either fire explosive arrows that do splash damage or ice arrows that can stop an enemy in their tracks. With her trusty lasso she can bring an enemy closer to her or quickly get away from a dicey situation. Layla's ultimate ability, Flames of Anat, is a large area of effect that produces massive burning damage and leaves enemies taking hits to their hp over time.

Don't underestimate me habibti!

Layla Faisal is an Archeology student and sophomore at Oasis University in the futuristic city of Oasis, Iraq. She inherited her love of ancient history and pursuit of knowledge from her father, Hamid Faisal, who is a professor at the University. She also possesses her late mother's competitive spirit as evident in her love of sports, specifically lacrosse. When she's not studying in the campus library, Layla is out on the field coaching her team to their next victory. She is highly energetic, fiercely loyal, and has been known to never back down from a challenge. After the mysterious disappearance of her father, Layla leaves her life of exams and medals behind vowing to bring him home safely and make those responsible pay.
